

Films

The Cycle Touring Festival film programme (1/3)

Who	Title	Description	Link	Length
Jenny Tough	Go Solo - You've Got This (Bikepacking Nepal)	A beautifully engaging short film based on Jenny's trip solo trip to the Nepalese Himalayas. It didn't all go to plan, but she had an amazing time full of opportunities to learn and grow.	View here	5 mins
Alastair Humphreys and his Brompton	Suilven: Escape The City And Explore	Adventurer Alastair Humphreys takes the new Brompton Explore Edition on a special weekend tour to the Scottish Highlands. Working with the filmmaker Tem, he created this captivating short film.	View here	7 mins
Tristan Bogaard	Why we Cycle	In 2018, Tristan cycled along famed 'Pamir Highway', through Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan asking the many cyclists he met along the way - 'why do you cycle?' This inspiring short film is the result.	View here	4 mins
Pannier and Brother cycles	Rainspotting	We join the Pannier crew for an 84-Hour Bikepacking ramble through Scotland's Grampians. In this well-crafted film, expect sleeper trains, snow, rain, magical Munro mountains, gravel, bogs and bridges.	View here	17 mins
Andrew P. Sykes	Santander to Coimbra 2019	Andrew treats us to some of the highlights of his two-week adventure across the Iberian Peninsula to Coimbra in Portugal. This lovely meditative film takes us along the path-less-travelled, weaving through the remote Picos de Europa, into Portugal's spectacular Douro Valley and then onwards to the Atlantic Ocean.	View here	31 mins
DJI Supertramp	Bikepacking the Cairngorms	A father and son share their fatbike bikepacking trip in Scotland in very challenging weather conditions. Certainly one to watch whilst in the warmth of our spring sunshine!	View here	8mins
Bombtrack Bicycle Co.	The Analog Kids	An endearing film of father Clem and his son Lubin as they travel by bike across familiar and new territory: crossing wild rivers, navigating through thick woods and climbing seemingly endless hills, finishing their days roasting home-made stick bread over their own bonfire.	View here	14 mins

Films

The Cycle Touring Festival film programme (2/3)

Who	Title	Description	Link	Length
El Flamingo Films	Ice & Palms	An adventurous bikepacking across the alps mixed with skiing some of the most iconic mountains along the way. This breath-taking trip from southern Germany to the Mediterranean Sea is not for the fainthearted.	View here	32 mins
Wilderness Scotland	Women in the Wild	Five years ago, Jenny Graham had never done any competitive cycling - she now holds the world record for the fastest woman to cycle around the world unsupported. In this short film, Jenny talks about her first Highland Trail 550 race and how this experience eventually led to her undertake that record-breaking trip.	View here	4 mins
Dan Clark	Simply Propelled: The Canadian North	Another look at Dan's inventive and dreamlike film capturing his family's nine-month ride along the divide of North America.	View here	15 mins
Ben Page	The Frozen Road	We revisit Ben's award-winning film that captures the wonder, terror and frustration that he experienced when riding through the unforgiving emptiness of one of the world's last great wildernesses.	View here	25 mins
teamBMC / The Adventure Syndicate	Should	'Should' examines the challenges that teenage girls face as they battle the pressures to conform to society's ideas of what girls should be like. With bikes and the Adventure Syndicate's positive role models they find the freedom and courage that comes from adventuring outdoors.	View here	7 mins
Rapha Films	GBDuro 2019 – EF Gone Racing	Lachlan Morton set off from Land's End on the 2,000km mostly off-road race that joins the UK's furthest points. This compelling film captures the highs and lows of such a trip, and the endurance needed to get to the end.	View here	32 mins
Crank and cog	Cycle tour of Iceland.	A one-minute film capturing the essence of a cycle tour through Iceland's magical landscapes.	View here	1 min

Films

The Cycle Touring Festival film programme (3/3)

Who	Title	Description	Link	Length
PEdALED	Wild Horses, The Silk Road Mountain Race documentary.	A beautifully filmed glimpse into the epic Silk Road Mountain Race, telling some of the riders' stories.	View here	28 mins
Alastair Humphreys	Mountain bikes and bothy nights	An imaginary journey round Scotland, linking together wild bothies and landscapes. And don't ask for the locations of these bothies – you won't be told!	View here	9 mins
Jolan Berard	42° Goings and comings: 1,657km through Spain on a cargo bike	Having spent one year in Paris as a bike messenger, Jolan discovered cargo bikes and how they can easily replace a car in the city. He wanted to test if it was really as good to travel for long journeys, so spent 20 days cycling the Saint James Way in Spain. This short film is the result.	View here	20 mins
Cicerone Press	Riding the Coast to Coast	Riding the Coast to Coast: Whitehaven to Tynemouth. A short film from a Cicerone author about making the journey.	View here	5 mins
Michael Whitty	36,525 Days	Three things you need to know about Mic Whitty's current cycling tour: 1. He started in Ambleside on Sunday, 01st November 2015. 2. He will finish at Bristol Cathedral on Tuesday 15th August 2045. 3. Along the way, he will cycle to each of the 25,630 Commonwealth War Grave locations on the planet. "36525 Days" is a documentary about the first three years...	View here	1 hr 7 mins
Anna Hughes	Le Cingles du Ventoux	In September I cycled across France from Dieppe to Nice, stopping at Mont Ventoux along the way to complete all three ascents in one day.	View here	9 mins
Barry Godin	Inspiration	We close this year's CTF Virtual Film Programme with Barry's own short and inspiring film where he shares his boundless enthusiasm and passion for cycling adventures - large and small.	View here	2 mins